LAUGH AND THE WORLD WILL LAUGH WITH YOU
Nature constructed a silly woman that she might puncture the wisdom of a wise man.
Teacher—Can you spell prestidigitator?
Tommie—No, mother doesn't want me to.
Teacher—Why not?
Tommie—Mother said she only wanted me to go to school for a short spell.
Why do stars make so many fare-well tours?
Because they fare so well on them, stupid.
Silence is golden, but many a cow would be killed if it were not for the whistle on an engine.
Did you ever notice that a ship cannot make knots when she is tied up?
"What did your wife say when you rolled in at 2 a. m. this morning?" asked the carpenter.
She said: "Wire you insulate?" replied the electrician.
"Ah, it is indeed a grave situation, very grave," remarked the grocer as he looked up from his paper.
"What is it?" inquired the wise guy.
"The undertaker's," replied the grocer. And they lived happy ever afterwards.
Don't take anything too seriously.

Preparedness at Albuquerque

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 3.—Being warned by her experience last year, when the influx of visitors almost taxed the capacity of arrangements made for their accommodation, Albuquerque this year has prepared early to provide rooms for all who come to attend the State Fair to be held within a few weeks. Elaborately classified lists of rooms have been obtained by the state fair officers, after canvassing the town thoroughly and a booklet will be printed for distribution to visitors, giving the name and location of each hotel, its rates, location and rates of various restaurants in the city, a condensed guidebook of Albuquerque, which feature has been found very useful in convention and other booklets, taxi rates, and other information of value to the visitor.
